Assignment 2

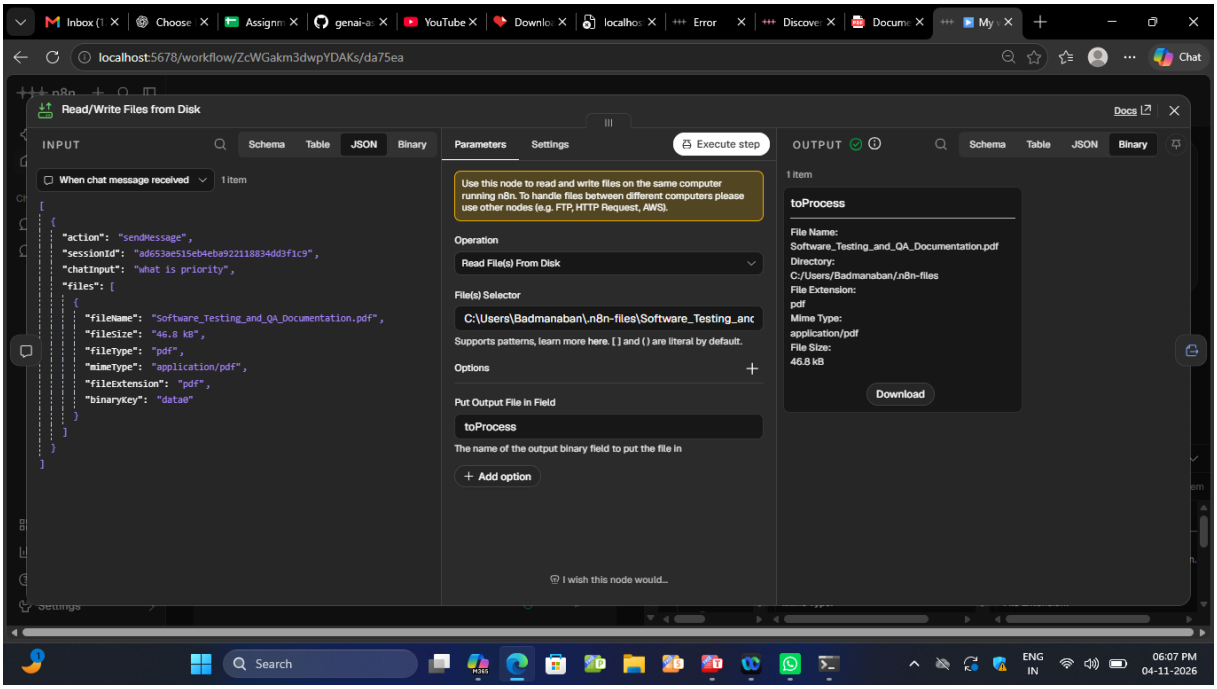

Build a Document Question Answering (Document QA) Agent

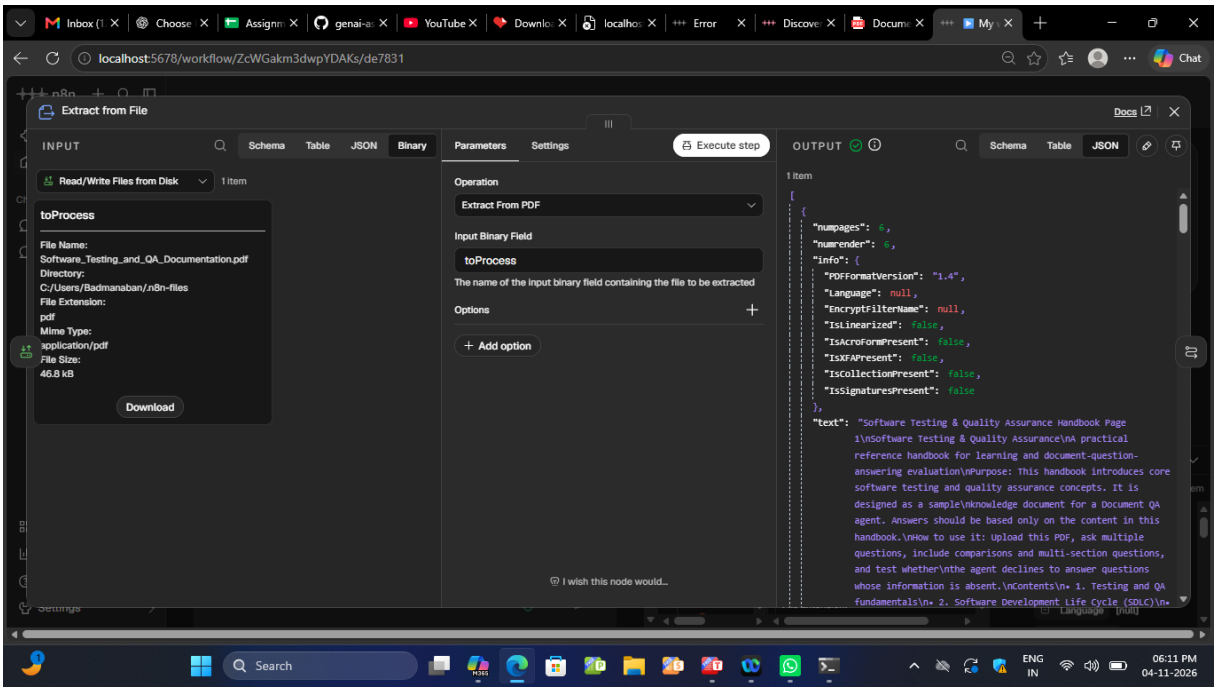

1. Chat node is configured as the trigger node. File upload is enabled for this node. Both the attached document and question is taken from the chatbox and sent to the next node

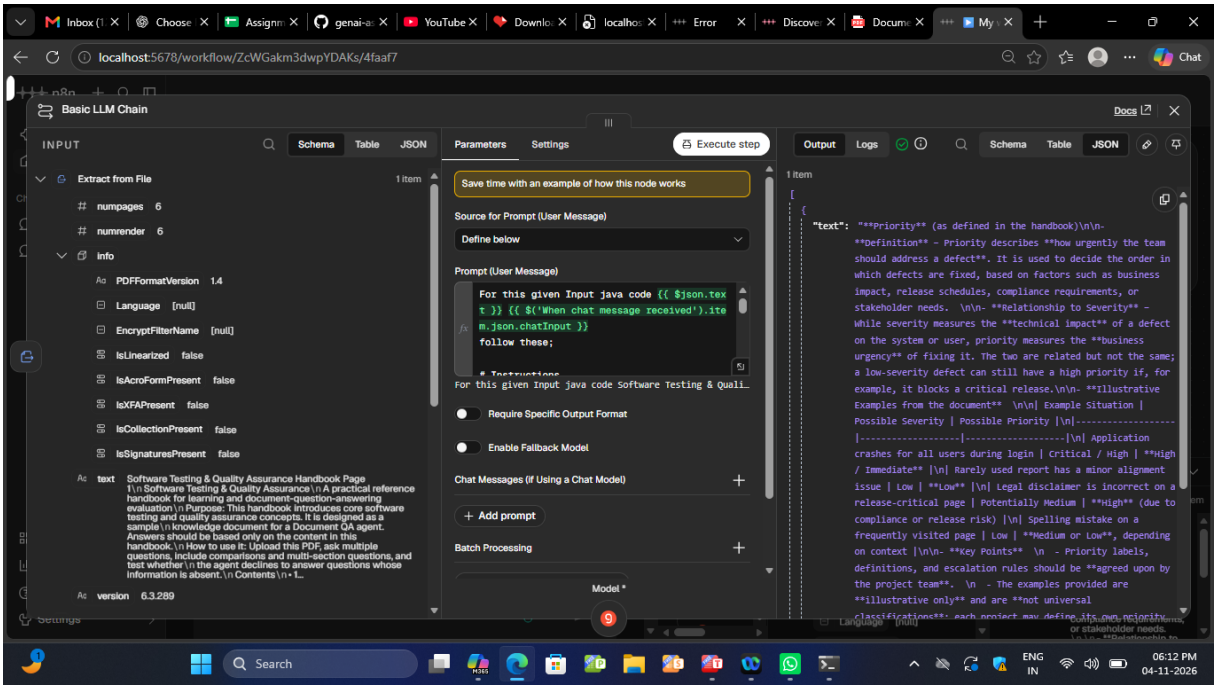

2. Read/Write Files from Disk node receives the question and document details from the chat node and reads it from the local disk and sent to the next node

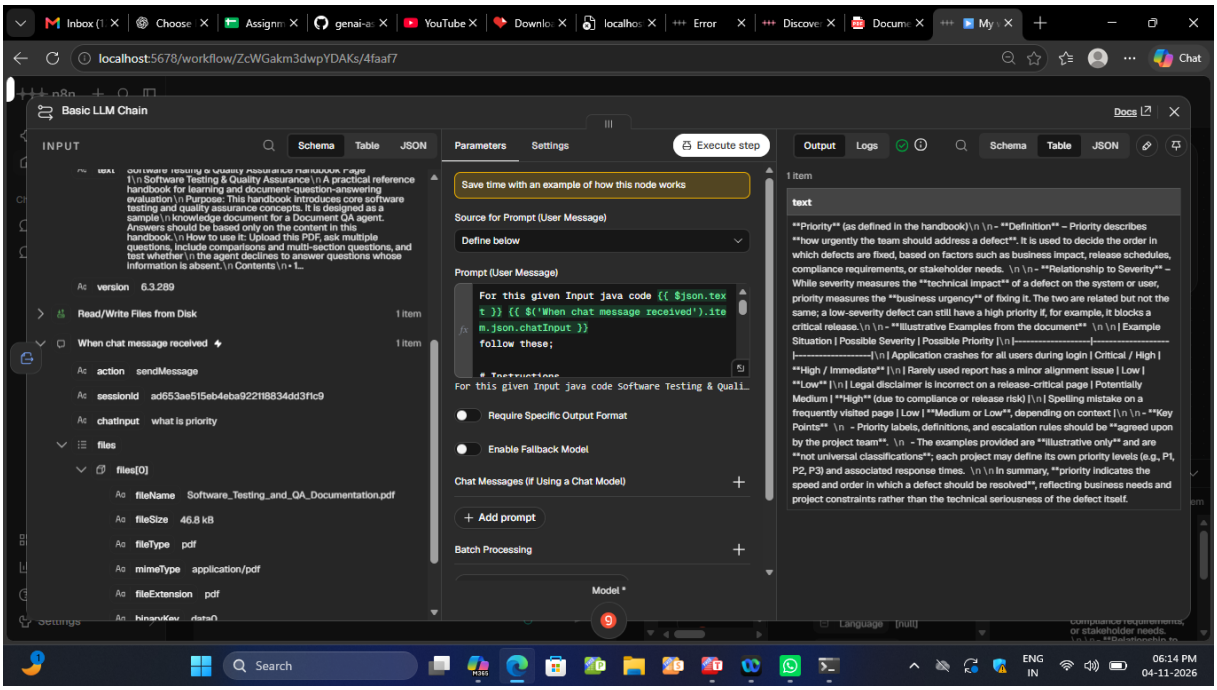

3. Extract from File node receives the document from previous node and extract the text from the uploaded pdf document

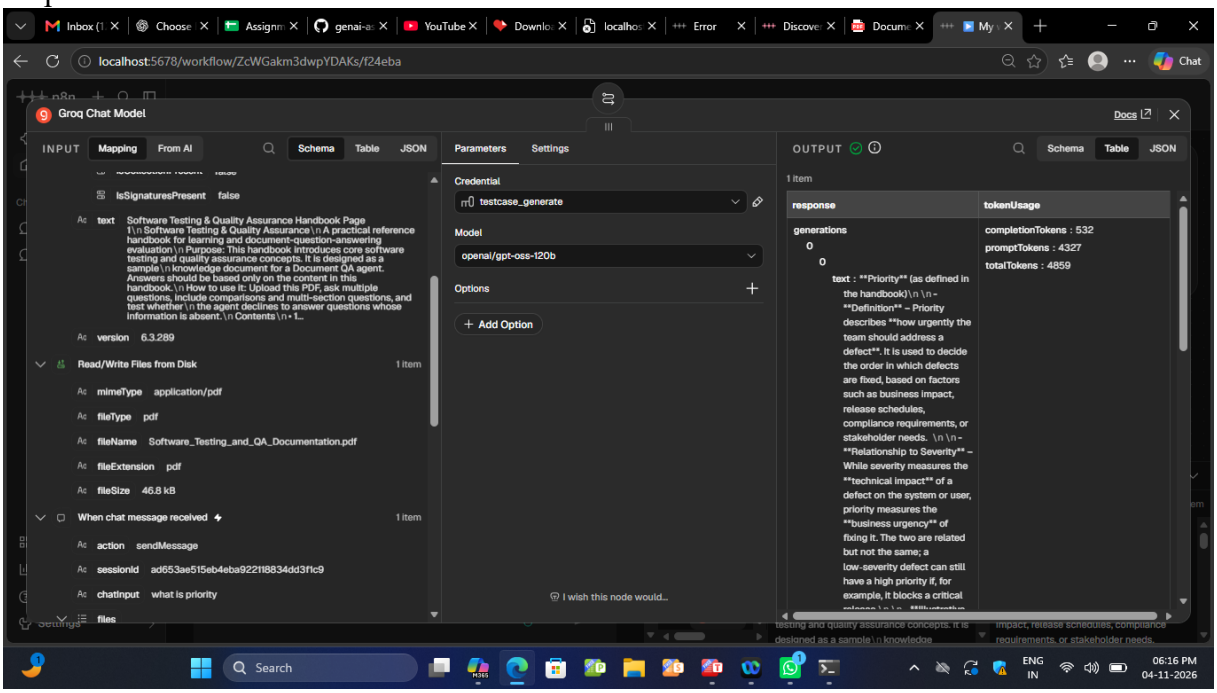

4. Both the Extracted text and the question are received in the basic llm node which we can see in the input window.

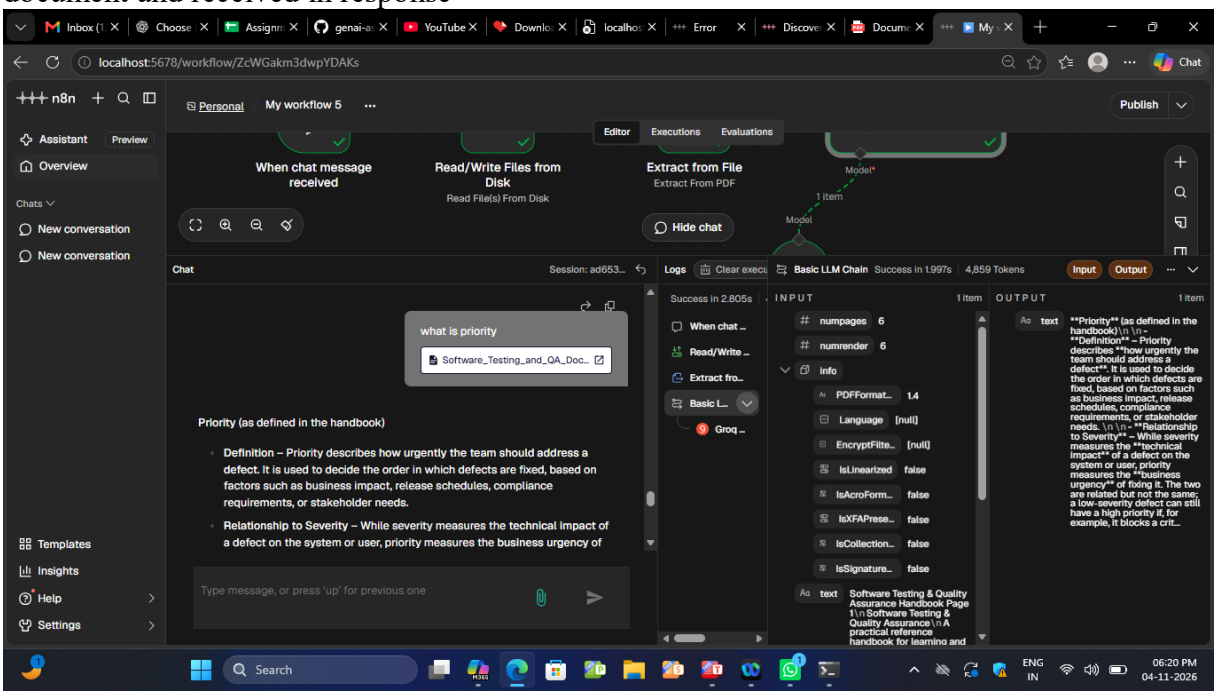

5.Groq chat model connected to the basic llm receives the question and the extracted text and generates the output based on the prompt configured in the basic llm node and returning the output to the llm

6. Uploaded document and the question sent from the chatbox and the output received.Question asked is related to the content present in the uploaded document. The answer is takn from the document and received in response

7.when the content is not present in the document for the question ,it gives the response as information is not available in the document

